

Contacting customers for product swaps

QUICK REFERENCE GUIDE — CUSTOMER SUCCESS · FULL SOP: SOP-CS-008

1. Open Shopify > Stock and filter by the out-of-stock product family and the customer's province.
2. Identify three to five in-stock alternatives. Note the available quantity for each.
3. Check ACT for the customer's preferred contact method (phone or email).
4. Contact the customer in their working language (English or French). List every viable alternative.
5. If emailing, mark the message High importance and reference the order number (e.g. #DSS166567) in the subject line.
6. Close with: "Please let us know as soon as possible so we can ship your order today."
7. Capture the customer's decision verbatim in the order notes (or leave the email thread as the audit trail).
8. Open Teams → Warehouse Questions channel. Post: "Swap for <replacement product>."
9. Wait for the warehouse acknowledgement (thumbs-up or reply) before closing the thread.
10. If shipping is limited (e.g. no 1-day available), inform the customer, then log their acknowledgement in the order note.

COMMON MISTAKE

Do not modify the order directly in Shopify. The warehouse swaps the inventory item at pick time — the order record stays unchanged.

COMMON MISTAKE

Do not offer credit on the first contact. Swap-first keeps the sale active and avoids accounting work. Escalate credit requests to the Customer Success Lead.

TIP

Quote actual stock quantities when listing alternatives. Customers ask, and naming the number shortens the call.

SHORTCUT

Post the swap note in the existing Warehouse Questions thread for that SKU when one exists — keeps the picker's context in one place.
