

ACT open account verification.

STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE — CUSTOMER SUCCESS

Document ID	SOP-CS-001
Document type	Standard Operating Procedure
Department	Customer Success
Owner	Customer Success Coordinator
Version	v1.0
Effective	June 2026
Status	Active

1. Purpose

The Customer Success Coordinator works through every ACT contact currently assigned to the Open record manager and confirms whether the business is still operating. The cleaned list shows how many dormant accounts remain reachable, which informs whether DSS needs to hire a third salesperson and which leads existing sales staff can pick up when they have spare time.

2. Scope

Applies to every ACT contact whose Record Manager is set to Open. Accounts assigned to Gabriel or Eric Michael are out of scope and remain under their salesperson. The procedure runs once a week on Fridays and continues until the full Open list has been worked through. Account removal from ACT is performed by the Operations Lead on a weekly cycle and is out of scope for this SOP.

3. Definitions

- ACT — the CRM used to store every customer contact, call log, and account status.
- Open (Record Manager) — an ACT contact with no salesperson assigned. The verification project targets this group only.
- Open (Status) — verified result meaning the business is still in operation, whether or not it is interested in reordering.
- Closed (Status) — verified result meaning the business no longer exists. Confirmed only by direct contact or by a clear written notice from the owner.

- Unsure (Status) — no answer on the phone, no closure indication online, and no email reply within the deadline window.

4. Roles and responsibilities

ROLE	RESPONSIBILITY	CADENCE
Customer Success Coordinator	Exports the Open list, runs research and calls, logs every outcome in ACT and the Excel tracker.	Weekly (Fridays)
Operations Lead	Removes contacts marked Closed from ACT once a week.	Weekly
Sales Lead (David)	Receives the weekly numbers report and decides on resourcing.	Weekly review
Sales Team	Picks up reactivated Open leads from the cleaned list when spare time allows.	Ad hoc

5. Weekly cadence and time allocation

Fridays are reserved for this work. Other tasks do not interrupt it — the sales team handles their own orders that day. Invoices remain the coordinator's responsibility on Friday.

Allocate roughly half an hour at the start of the day and half an hour before end of day for other tasks. This could be less time if needed. Record the start and stop times so the weekly hours total is accurate when reporting to David.

6. Export the Open list from ACT

Pull a fresh Excel export at the start of this process. The export becomes the working tracker.

1. Open ACT.
2. Click Lookup then All Contacts.
3. Click Record Manager to group contacts by their assigned manager.
4. Scroll to the contacts listed as OPEN and select them all.
5. Click Lookup Selected to limit the view to Open contacts only.
6. Click the Last Order Date column header to sort by most recent order first.

7. Click the Export Current List to Excel icon. ACT generates the Excel file.

The screenshot shows the ACT software interface. The top menu bar includes 'acts', 'Schedule', 'Write', 'Reports', 'Tools', 'Custom Tables', 'SMS', and 'Help'. Below the menu bar is a toolbar with various icons. The 'Export Current List to Excel' icon, which looks like a document with a green checkmark, is highlighted with a yellow circle. Below the toolbar, there is a table of contacts. The table has columns for 'Contact', 'ContactName', 'Company', 'Phone', 'City', 'Province', 'Postal Code', 'E-mail', 'ID/Status', 'Last Order Date', and 'Last Order'. The table contains 432 records, with the first few rows visible.

The exported file lists every Open contact with the columns ACT carries: contact ID, contact name, company, phone, city, province, postal code, email, ID/status, and last order date.

The screenshot shows an Excel spreadsheet with the following columns: Contact Type, Record Manager, Contact, ContactName, Company, Phone, and City. The data is organized into rows, with the first row being a header. The 'Contact Type' column contains the word 'OPEN' for all rows. The 'Record Manager' column contains the name of the contact. The 'Contact' column contains the contact ID. The 'ContactName' column contains the contact's name. The 'Company' column contains the contact's company. The 'Phone' column contains the contact's phone number. The 'City' column contains the contact's city. The spreadsheet is titled 'Contact List'.

7. Set up the Excel tracker

The Excel file is the working tracker for this project. ACT keeps the call history and status, but the Excel sheet is what survives the Operations Lead's weekly removal of Closed contacts — without it the coordinator loses track of how many accounts have been called and where they landed.

Required columns

- Status — one of Open, Closed, or Unsure. Colour-code the cell: green for Open, red for Closed, yellow for Unsure.
- Note — optional. One short line capturing how the interaction went so the next call can pick up where the last left off.
- Check-in 1, Check-in 2 — weekly columns that capture the next contact attempt for Unsure or unconfirmed Open accounts.

Why a parallel Excel tracker

Juan removes Closed contacts from ACT once a week. Without an external record, accounts vanish from ACT mid-project and the Coordinator loses the count. The Excel file preserves every row and every status decision for the David report.

8. Pre-call research

Before calling, run a short check to anticipate whether the business is likely still open. Spend a couple of minutes per account, not more.

- Search the company name on Google. Note whether the listing shows permanently closed — treat this as a hint only, since any user can flag a listing as closed.
- Check whether the company website is live and whether it carries a closure notice.
- Open the ACT contact record. Read the existing notes for the primary contact name, alternative phone numbers, and any restriction on when to call.
- Check Shopify for an account under the same business name in case the contact has migrated to the ecommerce side.

9. Phone call script

Use something akin to this opener on every call. Stay brief — a long script is not required and the goal is volume.

Opener

“Hi, I'm calling from DSS. You have an account with us, and I can see that we haven't placed an order in about two years. I'm calling to check whether the business is still open.”

If there is more than one phone number on the ACT record, work through every number before treating the contact as unreachable. The original number may have belonged to a buyer who has since left.

10. Outcome 1 — confirmed closed

Closed is only recorded when a person directly confirms that the business no longer exists, when a clear written notice arrives in response to the cleanup email (see section 13), or when the phone number/email doesn't work and there is no active website etc.

1. In ACT, log the call as Completed, customer confirmed, closed.
2. Format the log text in large, bold, red so the Operations Lead can spot the row when removing Closed accounts from ACT.
3. Change the ACT Customer ID Status to Closed.
4. On the Excel tracker, set Status to Closed and shade the cell red.

Copy-paste templates

Keep one prepared text block per outcome (Closed, Open, Unsure) with the correct formatting already applied. Paste the matching block into ACT instead of re-typing and re-formatting every time.

11. Outcome 2 — business sold to a new owner

When the contact says they sold the business, the underlying account is treated as closed but the lead is preserved.

1. Ask: who did you sell to, and is the store name unchanged?
2. Ask for the new owner's name and phone number.
3. Search ACT for the new business name. If an account already exists, mark the old account Closed — that legal entity no longer exists.
4. If no account exists for the new owner, capture the contact details and treat it as a new account from scratch.
5. Update the corresponding Shopify account if applicable.
6. When the new owner is reached, ask whether they want their historical account transferred and the password reset, or whether they prefer a fresh account. Honour the choice.

12. Outcome 3 — confirmed open

Open means the business is operating, whether or not it is interested in reordering.

1. In ACT, log the call as Confirmed still in business in large, bold, green.
2. On the Excel tracker, set Status to Open and shade the cell green.
3. Offer a password reset and link so the contact can reactivate on Shopify. Do not push if they decline.
4. If they are interested in reordering, route the lead to the sales team. The salesperson treats it as a new account and works the lead in the order it appears on the cleaned list.
5. If they are not interested, leave the status as Open. No further outreach is required from the Coordinator.

13. Outcome 4 — unsure (no answer, no closure signal)

Unsure applies when no one answers the phone, no closure notice is visible online, and the business identity cannot be confirmed. The Coordinator works a three-week sequence before marking the account Closed.

WEEK	ACTION	TRACKER ENTRY
Week 1	Call every phone number on file. Leave a voicemail if available.	Status: Unsure. Note the attempt date in Check-in 1.
Week 2	Call again and send the cleanup email with a two-week deadline.	Status: Unsure. Note in Check-in 2 that the email was sent.
Week 3	If no reply by the deadline, mark the account Closed and log the call in ACT in large, bold, red.	Status: Closed. Cell shaded red.

Cleanup email

Send a single email when no one answers the phone. The email states that DSS is cleaning the customer database and gives a two-week deadline, leading to a Friday. Make the deadline explicit (date, not “two weeks from now”). The email must say that the account will be closed if no reply is received by that date.

Website-says-closed variant

If the company website carries a closure notice and the phone is unanswered, send one targeted email before deactivating the account. Ask whether the physical shop is still operating or the business was sold. Treat the reply (or absence of reply) as the Unsure sequence.

14. Logging in ACT

Every call must be logged in ACT. Use the prepared copy-paste block for the outcome so the formatting (size, bold, colour) is consistent and the Operations Lead can find Closed rows quickly.

Update the ACT Customer ID Status on the same visit as the call. The Status field, not the call note, is what drives the weekly removal of Closed accounts. Do not leave it set to Open after a confirmed closure.

15. Weekly reporting to the Sales Lead

At the end of each Friday session, send the Sales Lead a single line with the week's numbers. Do not include narrative.

FIELD	EXAMPLE	SOURCE
Hours worked	4 h	Start and stop times noted during the session.
Accounts contacted	25	Count of rows touched in the Excel tracker this week.
Confirmed closed	20	Excel Status = Closed for this week.
Confirmed open	1	Excel Status = Open for this week.
Carried to next week	4	Excel Status = Unsure for this week.

Once a steady rhythm is reached (target: from week two onward), the Sales Lead uses these numbers to project the total weeks required to clear the Open list. That projection drives the decision on whether a third salesperson is hired.

Non-Compliance

- Marking an account Closed without direct verbal or written confirmation from the business (or something clear such as the phone number/email not working) is overturned by the Sales Lead and reopened. Repeated occurrences trigger a review of the project's accuracy.
- Failing to update the ACT Customer ID Status after a confirmed closure leaves the account on next week's Open list and double-counts work.
- Logging a call result in ACT without the prescribed colour and bold formatting hides the row from the Operations Lead's weekly cleanup, so closed accounts stay live in ACT.
- Skipping the Friday session without re-allocating the week's calls extends the total project length and is reported to the Sales Lead.
- Working only inside ACT (no Excel tracker) makes the weekly numbers report impossible — Closed rows that Operations removes mid-project can no longer be counted.

Exceptions

- The Sales Lead can suspend the Friday cadence for a defined week (for example, a quarter-end push). The pause is logged in the weekly report and the schedule is extended by the same number of weeks.
- If the volume of orders or invoices on a given Friday genuinely blocks the session, the Coordinator notifies the Sales Lead at the start of the day and proposes a make-up window inside the same week.
- A contact reached during sold-business handling that maps to an existing ACT account is closed without the three-week unsure sequence — the new owner's account already exists.
